
The Desert

The desert is a wonderful place, a place of peace, wonder and grace. Now, before I show you this place, I promise, this is not a waste. The Snake slithers softly and smoothly across the sand. The spider crawls across the rocks finding a place to spin its web. The cactus sits like a beautiful hill. Hopefully by this next part you will be thrilled. The javelina walks across the sand looking for something to eat. The roadrunner runs across the street. the woodpecker pecks at wood. as you can see the desert is good
