Cacti all around you

The sun scorching hot

The monsoon season has come and gone

The creosote still lingers

A cute, fluffy Packrat races through the night

A Rattlesnake is hungry he wants to take a bite

A Mountain Lion stalks animals silently through the dark

Owls hoot softly singing their lovely song

Scorpions hide unseen still on a rock

The crack of dawn is now here

And now you know the drill

Birds sing, dogs bark, you wake up from a dream
